

Alexandria Wailes (Director) [she/her] is an actor, director, choreographer, and director of artistic sign language (DASL). She has worked on numerous Broadway, Off-Broadway and regional theatres, television, and film. Directed Deaf Spotlight's Short Play Festival in Spring of 2023. Within the past six months, Alexandria was the DASL on Goodspeed and Signature Theatre's co-production of Private Jones. She also co-directed Spring Awakening at Skylight Music Theatre. Awards: 2022 Chita Rivera winner, recipient of 2022 Disability Future Fellowship, 2020 OBIE winner, 2020 Lucille Lortel nominee. A proud member of SDC, AEA and SAG-AFTRA. Very grateful to Michelle Banks and VOCA for asking me to direct A Not So Quiet Nocturne. Deeply moved that Jaye has given her blessing and trust in my directing this powerful and important piece of theatre. Shout-outs to this cast, the designers, production crew and interpreters who have contributed care, trust, and love towards creating a braver space to share this piece.
